^ COLLAPSE ^

Preliminary Setup:

Go to w3schools.com
Create an account (preferably with your college account)
Visit my-learning.w3schools.com/tutorial/git
Complete the following readings:
   Essentials 1.1, 1.2, 1.3
   Essential Commands 2.1, 2.2, 2.3, 2.4
   Branch Management 3.1, 3.2
   Remote Collaboration 4.1-4.9
   Security Practices 6.1-6.3
   Attempt the Git Quiz (aim for <=70%)

Verify you're in the main branch via `git status` or `git branch`
   If not, `git checkout main`
Create a branch for this assignment `git checkout -b M1-Git-Readings`
Note: In this assignment, we'll make the pull request later. In future assignments, we'll likely open it earlier so we can use the URL for assignments
Fill in the items in the worksheet below (save as often as necessary)
Once finished, export the worksheet
Take the exported file and add it anywhere in your repository (a Module1 folder is best, but not required)
Make sure git detects it by checking with `git status`
If everything is good, continue to submit
   Track the file either with `git add path/to/file` or `git add .`
   Commit changes via `git commit -m "some relevant message"`
   Push the changes via `git push origin M1-Git-Readings` Go to GitHub and use the dropdown in the top left to find the M1-Git-Readings branch and ensure the file is present
If the file is there, either use the pull request popup or go to the pull request tab and open a request where main is base and M1-Git-Readings is compare
Open and complete the merge of the pull request (it should turn purple)
Go to your M1-Git-Readings branch on GitHub and navigate to the submission file
Paste the direct link to that file on Canvas

#	Points	Details
☑ #1	1	Mentions issues or no issues
☑ #2	1	Covers core concepts related to the readings
☐ #3	1	At least a few reasonable sentences

Response:

I didn't really have any issues with learning about git and github, it will just take time to get used to using all of those commands. I like the fact that you can merge different branches together as well as fork a project to make your own work based off of an existing code. I look forward to using git and github with peers to create a code that has been looked at and worked on by other people and not only myself.
